Here are three tracks taken from a recently unearthed demo cassette. The first track features Chrissie with Steve Jones and Paul Cook (from the Sex Pistols). It's a rocking Phil Spector/Wizzard -style affair and definitely deserves circulation. A colleague suggests it may come from a Johnny Thunders session circa May 1978 but this is unconfirmed. The other two tracks sound like 4-track demos.

These Iveys demos come from the obscure collections of Apple Publishing demos on RPM records (UK) and as such we can assume they direct from tape sources.

This is Fleetwood Mac's second single (?) mixed in glorious mono. Uber rare! I REALLY prefer this mix to the stereo, but the stereo is also very good. And although I really despise J.Spencer's voice this is one of the those I like. . .go figure (the B-Side).
