

The Man Who Recorded America - Jac Holzman and Elektra Records - DVD

Broadcast BBC 4 22nd Oct. 2010

BBC 4 Freesat Digital-->Humax Foxsat HDR-->TS file USB to PC-->Video Redo-->TMPGEnc
Author4--> Video Folder

Video : MPEG-2 16:9 2902 kb/s 25fp/s 720x576 PAL (unrecorded files)

Audio : MP-2 256kb/s stereo

This is the BBC's tribute to the man who started a record company "on the back of a bike" 60 years ago in Greenwich Village New York. A small independent record label emerged that would shape American music in the 1960's. Elektra was the label of the east coast folk revival, and it also captured the psychedelic sounds of the west coast taking in mid-western garage rock en route. Elektra was the vision of one man who would revolutionise the American record business - Jac Holzman

Chapter points at relevant artists

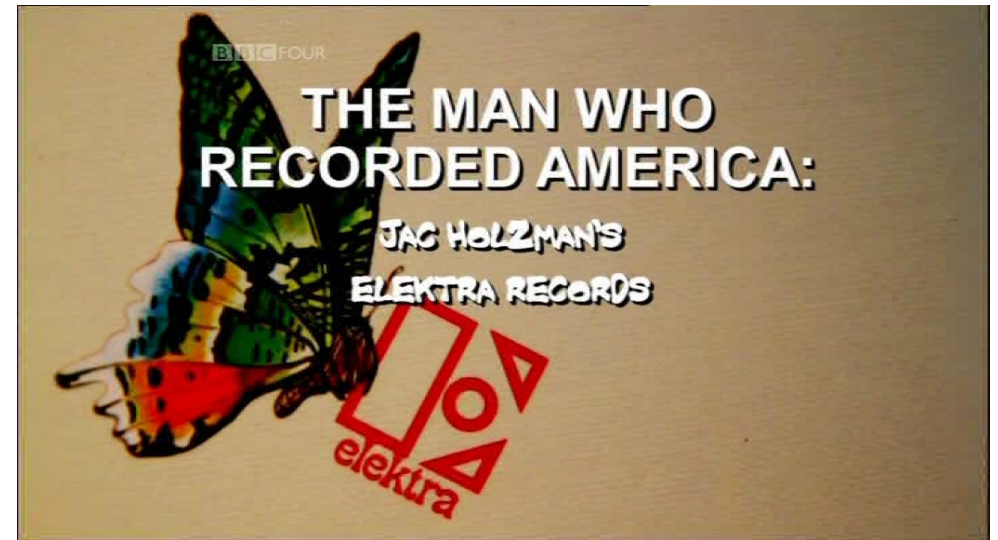

1. Introduction
2. Judy Collins
3. Tom Paxton
4. Love
5. The Doors
6. Tim Buckley
7. Incredible String Band
8. MC5 / Iggy & the Stooges
9. Nico
10. Bread
11. Carly Simon
12. Queen
13. Harry Chapin
14. Jackson Browne

Total time : 49:12

Narrated by Jac Holzman with observations by Jackson Browne - also comments from Judy Collins, Tom Paxton, Joe Boyd, Robin Williamson and Iggy Pop.

Uploaded by: nightfly

Jac Holzman - The Man Who Recorded America

Trade Freely. Not For Sale.

