Crazy The Funny Side of Elvis

A collection of elvis' hilarious, often spaced out talking in between songs from the concert years. Let's remember that elvis' own record label put out an album like this (called Having Fun With Elvis On Stage) while elvis was still alive(!). And they were following the example set by elvis' own manager who had put the album out first on his own label. However, those releases sort of cleaned everything up and hid the fact that elvis was pretty bonkers most of the time (listening to it, elvis stage patter sounds as dull & flat as any other vegas act and you simply question the sanity of the people who would release an item like Having Fun With Elvis On Stage).

But this Crazy disc shows it all, weird funny stream of consciousness ramblings from someone truly losing a grip.
