As The Shadows were a great influence on Neil Young, especially when he started out with The Squires, I grabbed the chance to see them live when Cliff Richard & The Shadows played the Ahoy in Rotterdam, The Netherlands recently. If you listen to Neil's Aurora, The Sultan or Mustang, you clearly hear the influence of The Shadows coming through. I was lucky enough to hear him play the Shadowy song The Sultan on several occasions the last two years. And I am glad I went to see Cliff and The Shadows play a packed Ahoy. I wasn't sure what to expect, but was happily surprised with a great show and excellent performance. And these guys played for 2,5 hours!!! How many young bands play their obligatory 1,5 hour nowadays and then split. Great show, great band, great guitar sound, great recording (IMHO).

This note's for you:
Do not encode to MP3
Do not buy or sell this recording or any other recordings by the Dutch Masters.
The recordings are made by fans for fans and are made freely available on the internet.
Support the artists by buying their official releases and especially by going to their shows.

We noticed a number of times that Dutch Master recordings are being sold on Internet sites in Holland such as Marktplaats.nl and similar sites. We have nothing to do and do not want to be associated with the people who do this and we will take action to have these advertisements removed from those sites.

Please give me a note when you spot these kind of advertisements.

A special warning goes out to someone in Bredevoort (you know who you are!).

As said: our recordings are made by fans for fans. They are intended to be available freely. So trade freely, do not sell or buy these recordings!
